Snow Hits, More Due

Canyon residents had a few days to recuperate from a 2 1/2 inch snow that slowed traffic, and covered lawns before they face another bad storm later this week.

The more than two inches of snow left only .27 inches of moisture for wheat fields and pasture lands near Canyon.

The added bit brought the year's total to .75, a little below last year's record.

Dr. M.B. Measamer, West Texas State University professor, said temperatures during February have not reached much below 15 degrees. He noted that only on a few occasions did the thermometer plunge to 15 degrees. On other occasions daytime temperatures reached into the 70's.

Weather forecast for the remainder of this week calls for more snow, which means more moisture for the dry lands.

Rites Held Saturday For Bob Foster

Robert William "Bob" Foster, 56 years old, member of a pioneer Canyon family, died Thursday of last week in Veterans Hospital in Amarillo.

Mr. Foster had maintained homes at 2203 Tyler in Amarillo and near Happy. He had been in failing health for some time.

A native of Canyon, Mr. Foster was born June 6, 1908. He was a son of the late G. G. Foster and Mrs. Ida Steen Foster. He was married Thanksgiving Day 1929 to Miss Elizabeth Chandler.

During his active years Mr. Foster was a businessman with farming and livestock interests. At the time of his death he was president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Amarillo with which he had been connected in some manner for almost 25 years.

Mr. Foster was a man who took a deep interest in his fellowman. He was a supporter of Boys Ranch from the time it was founded.

He was interested in drama dating back to his days in Canyon High School and at West Texas State where he majored in speech. He was always a supporter of Amarillo Little Theater.

He was a Buffalo football fan and often accompanied the team on road trips.

At West Texas State he was a member of the Red Men which later became Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Kiwanis Flapjack Day February 20

Flapjacks a flyin'. Sausage piled high, syrup running over the plates with butter melting along the edges. Sound good? Well, the Kiwanis Club of Canyon thinks the Pancake Supper affair is good, and each year they share the good cooking with the folks of Canyon.

Saturday, Feb. 20, is the date for all this mouth-waterin' food. Beginning at 6 a.m. Saturday, hot pancakes, sausage, bacon, coffee and milk will be served to the public for only $1 for adults and 50 cents for the students at the Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Wendell Roy, chairman of the annual supper, said the meal will be served all day Saturday until 7 p.m.

Tickets for the breakfast, dinner and supper, are available from any Kiwanis member or high school senior.

Hatcher Brown and Charles Wright are in charge of the ticket sales. Benny Cooper has the responsibility for the food, and the watch captains are Elton Cox and Captain Bill Johnson.

County Balks On Resolution

Two Randall County commissioners Monday balked at a request that members of commissioners court pass a resolution asking that prices of natural gas be fixed by the state railroad commission.

The request that the court pass the resolution came from the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association in a letter from the association's attorney, John Aiken of Hereford.

The association contends that gas prices are set by "monopoly" gas companies, are not always fair and should be controlled by the Texas Railroad Commission.

Members of the court, after a discussion of more than an hour, decided to defer action until next Monday or at a called meeting later this week.

Even if the resolution is passed, its only discernable effect would be whatever influence it might have on the state legislature when the gas users lay their case before that law-making body.

Commissioners Glenn Dowlen and Clarence Beckman were for immediate passage of the resolution. Commissioners B. R. Jones and Bill Butler wanted to study it further.

Beckman introduced a resolution for passage. It was seconded by Dowlen but later was withdrawn by Beckman.

Folk Singer Here Sunday

Members of Canyon Community Concert Association have an unusual treat in store for them Feb. 14, with the appearance of Martha Schlamm.

The Valentine matinee, featuring Miss Schlamm, the Viennese "Mary Martin", will be presented at 3 p.m. in Canyon High School Auditorium.

She first began singing in her father's restaurant for family entertainment as a child. She also studied piano in Vienna before she and her family were forced to leave Austria by the Nazi invasion.

Miss Schlamm fled to France, and her mother to England. Her father was sent to a concentration camp. The family was eventually reunited in England with the help of her mother's employer.

County Cooperative Society, told members of the court he thinks Pioneer Gas Company reaps excessive profits off sale of irrigation gas.

"You're asking us to take sides on something and we don't know whether you're right or not," Jones told Olson. "We've only heard one side of it."

Jones and Butler suggested that a representative of Pioneer Gas Company be invited before the court to tell the company's side of the story.

Olson told the court his association feels gas companies should be limited on the amount of return they can make on their investments. He said gas companies normally operate as monopolies. The Texas Railroad Commission is the logical agency to control this phase of the industry, he declared.

Questioned by Jones, Olson said natural gas provides cheaper means of operating irrigation wells than either butane or electricity.

He told the court that irrigation gas in the country is the same price as gas for in-

City Retirement Plan Included In Budget

Canyon City Commissioners took their first look at the proposed 1965-66 budget Monday night following a regular meeting.

A retirement system for city employees is a main addition in the preliminary budget.

Dewey Bryant, city manager, said the city would pay approximately $7,000 yearly into the retirement fund if maximum

Williams Files For City Race

Canyon and school district residents will vote in two elections early this spring.

City Commission election has been set April 6 at City Hall with two openings to be filled.

Canyon Independent School Board will have three vacancies this year.

John Williams, a councilman for six years in place 5, filed with Dewey Bryant, city manager, Monday after Commissioners had called the election.

Term of Paul Lindsey, place 4, will also expire this year. Lindsey had not filed for reelection at press time Wednesday.

Deadline for filing at City Hall is March 6.

Williams, a rancher and farmer, has lived in Canyon since 1951. He became a city commissioner in 1959.

Williams was born in Gray County. He attended school in Miami and Pampa, and graduated from Pampa High School.

The father of one child, Williams married Mollie Archer in Panhandle in 1925. The couple lived in Pampa and soon moved to Denver for a short stay. In 1926 they moved to Perryton and moved back to Pampa in 1935.

In 1937 the family moved to Amarillo where they lived until (See Williams, Page 7) benefits were included in the plan.

However, Bryant explained, city participation could vary widely.

Representatives of the Texas Municipal Retirement Service will meet with city councilmen later this month to discuss the plan.

Preliminary information from the retirement service shows that a city may choose to participate in the plan up to a chosen level of the employees' earnings.

The city and the employee would pay into the fund equal or nearly equal percentages of the employee's earnings.

Bryant said 5 per cent from both the city and employee was the initial amount recommended by the retirement service.

Benefits for the employee depend on length of service, salary, and the amount of city participation.

Employment payments would be made by payroll deductions. The retirement service would handle the additional bookkeeping chores and furnish periodic statements to the city.

The system includes life insurance and disability benefits but would not eliminate the city's need for workman's compensation for the 33 employees, Bryant said.

The preliminary budget also includes $38,000 for water system improvements--two wells and chlorination and other equipment.

The total cost of the water system improvements is $48,000, Bryant said, of which $10,000 is being paid out of the current budget.

Drilling of the wells is expected (See City, Page 7)

Charge Two After Bowl Phones Taken

Two men were charged this week in connection with a Dec. 1 burglary at Buffalo Bowl. Charges were filed against Melvin Leon Beasley, 22 years old, Tulsa, and David Lawrence Jones, 22, Pampa, both former students at West Texas State University.

Officers recovered seven telephones alleged to have been taken from offices at Buffalo Bowl. These were recovered at Pampa, according to Deputy Calvin Costley, investigating officer.

Officers said both Beasley and Jones have made statements about the alleged burglary. They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson. Bonds were set at $1500 each.

Jones has made bond. Beasley remains in jail.

Teacher Pay Hike: By Which Route?

BY CLAUDE WALBERT
A speaker warned Randall County teachers Tuesday that Gov. John Connally's proposal for financing a teacher salary increase would place a heavier tax burden on local property owners.

A. H. Hooser, formerly a teacher and principal at Plainview and now on the staff of the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA), said local districts would pay 70 per cent of the annual cost of the salary program offered by the governor.

The TSTA "$45, for '65" plan would provide $42 million for teacher salaries in 1965-66 and would be financed on the traditional 80-20 basis, he said, with the state paying 80

Feed Grain Producers Signing Up

Sign up began Monday at the ASCS office for the 1965 feed grain program, according to Donald F. Lloyd, office manager.

Sign up period will continue through March 26.

Jack Frost, chairman of the county ASCS committee, said the program basically is the same as in 1964. It combines corn, grain sorghum and barley in a single feed grain base.

Participating farmers may qualify for diverted acre and price support payments and may be eligible for price support loans.

Farmers who take part in the program may divert for payment as small an acreage as 20 percent of the farm's feed grain base or as large an acreage as 50 percent of the base or 25 acres, if this is larger.

Frost said two rates for diversion payment are offered. The lower rate applies to the first 20 percent of the feed grain base actually diverted. The higher rate applies to diverted acreage in excess of the minimum.

Frost said that if both the intended diversion and the acreage actually diverted are equal to at least 40 percent of the base, the higher rate applies to the entire acreage diverted.

The county chairman noted that a new provision in the program provides an opportunity to substitute feed grains for wheat or wheat for feed grains by growers who take part in both programs. Also, producers who signed up in the 1965 wheat program are given an opportunity to revise their intentions during this period for signing up in the feed grain program.

per cent of the cost of the Minimum Foundation program. The Connally plan would be spread over a 10-year period. The TSTA plan of across-the-board raises would take effect in September.

Hooser emphasized the respect of Texas teachers for the governor and his concern with education, but asserted the TSTA plan would be better for education.

Texas is ranked 32nd among the states in teachers salaries, which are $774 below the national average, Hooser said.

He asked how talented people could be expected to enter teaching when their training would demand far higher pay in other fields.

"The bill is not for you individually," Hooser said, "but for the boys and girls of Texas."

Hooser pointed out that the governor was familiar with the TSTA plan, having received a draft of it about a year ago. However, Sen. Jack Strong of Longview drew up a proposal of his own that the governor adopted with minor changes in his message to the Legislature.

Before the governor's message, the TSTA proposal had the backing of approximately

All-School Musical Feb. 19-20

"Brigadoon", a musical comedy by Alan J. Lerner and Frederick Loewe, will be presented by Canyon High School students Feb. 19-20.

Beginning at 8 o'clock both evenings, the all-school musical will feature five female speaking parts and eight male speaking roles.

Under the direction of the speech and music departments at the high school, the famed musical will feature some 21 singing members of a chorus and 16 dancers.

Tickets for the production are on sale from speech and music students at the high school.

Reserve tickets, selling for $1.25, and general admission tickets, $1, may be obtained by calling the high school. Tickets will be delivered to persons not able to get to the high school.

Some 438 general admission tickets are available both evenings, and 312 reserve seats are available.

Mrs. Mary Peacock and Gene Murray will direct the production.

Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston is shown here with seven telephones recovered at Pampa. The telephones are alleged to have been taken in a Dec. 1, 1964 burglary at Buffalo Bowl.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

As a matter of record, this newspaper will print the criminal proceedings of Randall County court in the future.

In the past we have covered only unusual cases. We feel that this sometimes is not fair to the court, law enforcement officers, the people involved and to the public in general.

Our policy in future juvenile cases will be to withhold the names of first offenders. The names of juveniles sent to reform school will be printed.

We realize that printing the names of such offenders often brings grief to innocent loved ones. We ask those affected to remember that we are mere chroniclers, setting down the living history of this community in print. We do not make the news. The people involved make it and they can keep their names from appearing unfavorably in print by keeping out of trouble.

We make this decision as we watch the appalling increase in both adult and juvenile crime. We are determined to give those officers who daily risk their lives in the defense of this community all the moral and material assistance of which we are capable. So be it.

Randall County court house needs a switchboard. It might be expensive in the beginning but we think it probably would save the county money in the long run.

We are certain of one thing. It would increase the efficiency of court house employees.

The court house has a direct line to Amarillo. This is a must because the bulk of the county's population is concentrated in South Amarillo. The county judge's office sometimes is turned into a telephone answering service.

"There are times when I can't even dictate a short letter without a half-dozen interruptions," County Judge Lloyd King said this week.

A switchboard also would eliminate free long distance calls to Amarillo by people not employed by the county.

Sometimes there's a line of people waiting to use the Amarillo phone. There is no good reason for the taxpayers of Randall County to foot the bill for free telephone service for some people.

There is another factor, the Amarillo line is the sheriff's department's tie to a big segment of its responsibility--protecting the people of South Amarillo.

As far as we know it hasn't happened yet but it could. A dire emergency could arise in the north part of the county at a time when the sheriff's department line is tied up by private small talk. The folks involved might not be able to call in because of the tied up line. We leave the result of such a situation to your imagination.

political reproussions.

We were astounded to hear Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara say before a television audience of millions Sunday that there is no way to protect our people from sneak attack in South Viet Nam.

McNamara seems bent upon sacrificing the very bloom of American manhood to an Asiatic meat grinder. We never have and we never will win a small arms war of attrition with the hordes of Asia.

We have three choices. They are (1) continue our orgy of human sacrifice on the Red altar, (2) pull our people out of Viet Nam, or (3) fight to win with whatever means necessary.

The first choice (the one we have pursued for the past decade or more) can lead us only to bitter defeat in the end as it has in Korea and elsewhere.

The second choice will not be a solution to our problems for long because the communists can create another flare-up almost anywhere they decide. So the second choice would be a choice for isolationism and eventual withdrawal to this continent as a sort of Fortress America.

That leaves us only one sensible choice--fight to win.

Noticed that no one showed up last Friday night at a meeting of men interested in umpiring the Little League and Babe Ruth League games this summer.

Well, two men did show. George Stevens, the man who called the meeting, and George de Schweinitz, secretary of the Babe Ruth League.

Not much of a turnout for men interested in the welfare of their sons.

During the summer months bushes are beat to find men who will umpire the games. These men are important cogs in the summer baseball program. Without officials games aren't too fair. In fact, they can't be played.

So the meeting which was supposed to be held Friday was to give local fathers and interested men a chance to meet and discuss rules and regulations.

As George Stevens said, "If we all knew the rules, we would enjoy calling a game a lot more. But we hate to call a game because we really don't know what the rules are."

Another meeting will be called for the future probably. And seems that it would be a good idea for some of you men to come attend, maybe you would enjoy officiating a game.

The summer baseball program is an excellent one for our boys, and it revolves around interested parents. Without the enthusiasm and interest of mothers and fathers, the program would die.

Don't let other folks take care of your child. Pitch in and give them a hand, even if for one night a week. If all fathers with sons in the program gave only one night a week, the work load would be light and evenly distributed.

What we need is a softball program for the girls. Seems like the girls don't have much to do in the summer, except attend the boys' ball games. So, if anyone is interested in starting a girls league, let me know. Maybe we can get the ball rolling, so to speak.

Methodist Bishop Visits WT Campus

Dignitaries of the Methodist Church in the West Texas area met in Canyon Tuesday and viewed the West Texas State University Wesley Foundation.

Bishop Eugene Slater representing the South and North West Texas area, headed the list of men who spent Tuesday morning and part of the afternoon visiting with WT faculty members and students.

Also included in the delegation were members of the Committee on Higher Education for the West Texas Conference.

Dr. Frank Charlton, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene, is chairman of the conference committee on higher education. He and his committee, consisting of Rev. Doyle Ragle, chairman of the conference board of education and pastor of the First Methodist Church in Vernon, Eldon Mahon of Abilene and Harold Harringer of Lubbock, talked with Charles Hastings, Wesley Foundation director at WT, about plans for the future.

"Our purpose here today is to become acquainted with the staff, property, facilities and the school as a whole at WT," noted one visitor attending a noon luncheon in their honor.

"This meeting gives us an opportunity to think together about the ministry on this campus. We are glad for the fine relations between the institution and the student center at West Texas State," said Bishop Slater following the luncheon.

"Christian witnesses are needed today. This institute has given great emphasis to science. This emphasize heightens the necessity of why we are here. We recognize the fact that in science we find new developments. We also recognize that we need faith in Christian culture."

"We are committed to this. The greatest area ahead of us is in human relations."

"The Wesley Foundation on campuses is a clear example of Christian witness. They provide a place for expression of Christian ideals."

"Our goal is the development of man at his fullest and noblest," emphasized Slater.

Charlton explained to persons attending the luncheon that the committee's visit was not an official one.

"We just came to see what you men are doing. If we can see what you are doing, we can explain it to our congregations. They will understand

Fourth Place Goes On Line Friday Night

The Canyon High School Eagles play their last home game Friday against Dumas, tied for the district lead with Perryton.

The Eagles dropped a two-point decision to Dumas in an earlier game this season. A win over Dumas and a Hereford defeat would put Canyon back in fourth place in district standings.

The Eagles record stands at 3-5 in district play and 12-12 for the season.

Hereford, which has had the Indian sign on the Eagles this year, downed the visiting Eagles 72-48 Tuesday night.

The Eagles hit 43 per cent from the field and 49 per cent from the free throw line. Ricky Bacon led the losers with 12 points and Dennis Haley had 11.

But Tom Lair and Tommy Higgins, who usually account for 34 points in a game, came up with only 12. Lair has a season total of 307.

The Eagles rolled past Muleshoe last week by a 76-66 score. The score by quarters was 20-11, 30-24, 53-38, and 76-66.

The Eagles had 68 per cent from the foul line and 52 per cent from the field.

Lair led the scoring with 22. Higgins had 19, George Cox had 12, and Joe Moore had 11. Bacon, who showed sticky hands for rebounds, had 9.

8th Graders Have Perfect Year At HHS

Eight grade boys basketball team at Happy has raced past 13 opponents to end the season with a 13-0 record.

Coached by Ricky Mantooth, the boys played 6 games in tournaments and 7 games outside the tournament brackets.

"The boys played three teams equal to Class B ratings. The other 10 games were with Class A, AA and AAA schools," said head basketball mentor Bill Tennon.

Hill Chapel Ceremonials Unite Miss Smith, Johnson

In a ceremony read Saturday, Feb. 6, in Joseph A. Hill Chapel, Miss Mary Smith and Bill Johnson were united in marriage.

W. A. Wilson, Justice of the Peace, read the evening ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Francille Smith of Plainview and J. W. Smith of Meadow. Mr. and Mrs. Arch Johnson of Happy are parents of the groom.

The main altar was centered by a large bouquet of white princess gladioli and snowball mums, flanked on either side by arched candelabra. Three tapers were placed in the center of the altar, the two outer tapers lit. At the close of the service, the center candle symbolizing oneness, was lighted from the outer candles, which were then extinguished.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Gloria Copeland of Canyon. Matron of Honor was Mrs. James Smith, sister-in-law of the bride, of Brownfield, and Janice Johnson of Happy, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Joe Johnson of Happy was his brother's best man, and groomsmen were James Smith of Brownfield, brother of the bride, and Nick Uselding of Happy, cousin of the groom.

Assuming ushering duties were Gene Finley of Canyon, Ronnie Johnson of Happy, cousin of the groom, and Bob Boyd of Canyon.

Natalie Smith of Brownfield, niece of the bride, was flower-girl.

Bridal attendants wore identical red lace suits featuring a scalloped bodice hemline. Matching silk illusion veils and shoes helped complete their outfits and they carried colonial bouquets of white snowball mums trimmed in flamingo red satin streamers, complimenting their dresses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a satin and lace gown fashioned and designed by her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Joe Henson. The Chantilly lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline entwined with seed pearls and leading to long pointed sleeves over the hands. The bell skirt was enhanced with a floating train of white satin bordered with matching lace of the bodice. Tiny seed pearls were individually sewn into the folds of the lace. The veil of bridal white silk illusion appliqued with Chantilly lace florets donned a bridal white satin pillbox trimmed with tiny seed pearls. She carried a white cattleya orchid bouquet trimmed in bridal white satin and imported lace streamers atop a white Bible.

The reception, following the ceremony, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boyd of Canyon. Decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of red and white. Assisting in the houseparty were Karma Muzny of Canyon, Dinah Gilbert of Canyon, Mrs. Nick Uselding of Happy, and Mrs. Boyd.

For her going away suit, the bride chose a black and white plaid sheath, with a matching full-length coat. Her accessories were of red lizard and she wore the corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Johnson attended Meadow High School and West Texas State University. She is presently employed with Pioneer Natural Gas Co. in Amarillo.

Her husband is a graduate of Happy High School and is presently a student at West Texas State majoring in animal husbandry.

Places were marked by arrangements of "hearts and flowers".

Club members ate Hawaiian style, with the menu including pineapple, papaya and passion-fruit juices, roast pork, pickled pineapple, glazed carrots, spinach, rice, tropical jellies, and coconut cake and pudding for dessert. evening, with Mrs. V.R. Reynolds.

Nine members were present and, combined with a total of two earlier weigh-ins, one hare, one duck, four turtles and five pigs were registered.

City...

pected to start this week and they are to be completed by March 31, the city manager said.
New water lines to service the wells have been installed.
The budget at this time also includes renovation of the city hall, originally a bank that has been used for city offices since before 1940.

City officials want to install a false ceiling in the old high-ceiling building, to install a heating and cooling system, to repaint and to hang draperies.
The city plans to deposit $7,500 for the second year for the purchase of a second big pumper truck for the fire department.

The truck, which will be one rated Class A, will be purchased next year or late this year with payment to be made next year, Bryant said.

The Canyon Fire Department has six trucks, one of which is a Class A pumper. However, when a town's population reaches 10,000 it must have two pum-pers with that rating or suffer
a penalty in fire insurance premiums.

Bryant said the truck was already needed. Canyon's population is estimated at 7,600, not including the students at West Texas State University.

The city provides all fire protection for the college as well as the city, which is rapidly gaining sprawling suburbs.

The city also answers all rural fire calls for $100 a call under an agreement with Randall County.

Another item in the budget is the codification of city ordinances, which date back to the city's incorporation in 1906.

Ordinances and amendments,
many outdated, are scattered through the minutes of city council meetings. A Florida firm has estimated the cost of codification, including editing, printing, and recommendation of up-to-date ordinances, at $4,200.

Bryant said revision of zoning ordinances, which he termed "wholly inadequate," would be done at the time of codification.
The zoning ordinances were written in 1941.

Bryant said the budget would be higher than the current one,
but that it was not yet possible
to say how much higher.

The councilmen have reviewed departmental needs, Bryant said, and now are ready to consider the budget as a whole.

In other action this week,
councilmen awarded bids for a sanitation truck including the cab and chassis and packer body.

Commissioners voted to give Pak-Mor Company of Amarillo
the bid for the body of the truck at $3,650. Jess Ford of Canyon was low bidder on the cab and chassis at $3,618.63.

Commissioners called for a city election April 6 to elect two city commissioners.

Terms of John Williams,
place 4, and Paul Lindsey, place 5, expire this year.

Williams filed Monday night
with Bryant to seek reelection.
Jack Jennings was named as presiding judge and Levi Cole as judge for the election, to be held in the City Hall.

Election filing deadline is midnight Saturday, March 6.
Bryant asked the council if any changes were desired in the fire contract with Randall County. Commissioners agreed that no changes were desired, and that the agreement was satisfactory for the city.

Discussion was held on possible annexation of acreage south of the present Pioneer Estates east of Canyon.

Bryant told commissioners that developers of the area were interested in annexation.

Problems arising if the area is annexed would be construction of sewer and water pipes to the area.

Bryant said 800 feet of water line would be needed to run south on 28th Street beginning at Seventh Avenue.

"We must take care of the water problem before they begin developing the area, or the expense to put the lines in will be high," Bryant pointed out.

Cost of the project would run the city about $12,000, according to Bryant.

Councilmen also approved payment for payback agreements with Bill Money and Canyon Independent School District.

A public hearing meeting was held Tuesday night in the City Hall to consider annexation of a tract of land lying directly north of the present city limits. No action was taken on the annexation ordinance Tuesday.

Arch Hunsley, developer of the land which is included in the annexation ordinance, met with the commission Tuesday.

Hunsley gave councilmen a formal withdrawal statement for a proposed water district in the area from the Hunsley Hills Developers.

Hunsley Hills Developers had requested the formation of a water district several months ago. The request sparked action by the commission to annex the area.

During the past decade the Fosters traveled about the world, especially to South America, a great deal. They made close friendships with people from all over the globe.

"Bob's trademark was American Beauty Roses," a relative said this week. He often remembered friends and kin on special occasion with a dozen of these magnificent flowers.

Mr. Foster managed the land bank association in Canyon until 1941 when it was grouped with the Amarillo and Vega offices doing business out of Amarillo.
He then became manager of the Amarillo office.

He held that post until 1944
when he entered the US Marine Corps. He served with the Corps in the Southwest Pacific and was mustered out two years later.

Leaving the service, he returned to management of the land bank office in 1946 and continued there until May of 1947. Resigning as office manager, he was named to the board of directors.

Fellow board members made him president of the association in 1950 and he held that post until the time of his death.

Mr. Foster was a member of Canyon First Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Canyon
First Methodist Church with Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of LaGrone Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Ralph Huseman, Roy Cheatham, S. B.
Whittenburg, Fred Cotton, Russ
Davidson, Ray Fickel, Lewis
Williams and Jake Harrison.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. E. A. Rowley, Larry Holman, Lee Foster, Pete Whitlow, Bert Lester, Delbert Lowes and Lige Frieze.

Survivors include the wife; a son, Chan of Hutchinson, Kan.;
four brothers, Paul of Amarillo,
Gray Dean of Colorado City, Jack of Happy and Hosea of Canyon; a sister, Mrs. J. O. Parker of Canyon and two grandchild-

The TSTA plan was introduced as Senate Bill 4 and House Bill 5, thus keeping the figure 45 before the legislators.
It has 11 co-authors in the House, where co-signing is a common practice.

The governor's plan, introduced as S.B. 124 and H.B.
446, has 52 co-authors in the House, of whom 17 also signed the TSTA bill.

According to TSTA spokesmen, the governor's measure calls for local districts to pay for $14 million of the bill's $20 million annual cost.

Under the TSTA plan, during the next biennium local districts would pay $8.4 million and the state $33.6 million of the $42 million cost.

Hooser pointed out that local district had only one way of raising money: through local property taxes.

The state has many sources
of revenue for the general fund, he said.

Local districts already pay the full cost of constructing and equipping school buildings.

Under the governor's plan,
local districts would be required to pay for the first time 20 per cent of the cost of textbooks and teacher retirement funds into the Minimum Foundation program.

Computations by Canyon school officials showed that under certain conditions, the amount paid into the Minimum Foundation Program alone would be more than was returned in teacher salaries.

"You're asking us to sign something to ask the government to take over control of a private business," Butler told Olson. "I'd want to know more about it before I'd ask a government agency to regulate your business."

Jones suggested that a representative of Pioneer Gas Company be asked to appear before the court.

Both Butler and Jones said they would make inquiry into the matter and be ready for a decision on the resolution by next Monday.

A similar resolution was passed by commissioners court about three years ago.

Commissioners agreed to allow Olson to place a water line under a paved county road in Precinct 4.

First National Bank of Canyon was named Randall County depository for the year.

Commissioners expressed themselves unfavorable to county unit rule and pooling of all county equipment. This expression was in answer to a questionnaire submitted by The Denton Record Chronicle.

Beckman said such a system was used here at one time and was unsatisfactory.

this is a wonderful oppor-

Youth Problems Discussed

160 delegates from the Panhandle area will be selected for the 1965 Youth Conference Aug. 20-22 in Austin, which will be attended by around 1,600. In his speech, Davis emphasized responsibility to oneself and others as a means of preventing juvenile crime.

SANDRA HENSCHL, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Henschel of Canyon, finds in Mrs. Vera Brown's junior high art class that design has something to do with media, in this case tempera color on paper.

Bufs Eye Cowboys On 15-Win Search

Saturday night West Texas State hosts Hardin-Simmons in the next-to-last home game for the Buffaloes. Gametime is 8 p.m. with the WTS Freshmen meeting Graham Plow at 6 p.m.

A split on the current home stand finds the Buffs with a 13-7 record and coach Jimmy Viramontes' goal of 15 victories within reach. The remaining schedule shows games at Texas Western, New Mexico State and Hardin-Simmons with the final home contest against New Mexico State sandwiched between.

The Buffaloes are still relying on hot-shooting to win. Of their 13 wins, 10 have been achieved by hitting more than 50 per cent of their field goal attempts. Only twice have the Buffs won when they did not shoot a better percentage than the opposition. For the season, their percentage is .483.

Standouts for the Herd in recent games have been Marvin Mitchell and Gail Simpson. Mitchell has been playing as well as ever in the last three games after a mid-season injury and slump. In that stretch, he's averaged 16 points and hit 61 per cent of his shots from the field. Mitchell continues to lead the team in free throw percentage with .828.

Simpson, a 6-0 guard, from Borger, has quarterbacked the team well and also picked up his scoring pace. He's just seven counters shy of a 10-point average.

Hardin-Simmons is 14-5 for the season and has Abilene Christian to face Thursday night before coming to Canyon. The Cowboys have two wins over North Texas State which conquered the Buffs in Canyon, 75-70. They also won the previous meeting with ACC which bounced the Herd in both Abilene and Canyon.

The Cowboys fell twice to Oklahoma City, as did WTSU, but by seven-point margins in contrast to the 26 and 18-point decisions the Chiefs managed over the Buffaloes.

Monday night, the Buffs ran away from the Eastern New Mexico University Greyhounds. The score was tied at 45-45 seconds deep in the second half before the Buffs unleashed a barrage that left the final score 102-79.

The Buffs dominated the backboards, hit 57.3 per cent from the floor and hit 88.9 per cent from the foul line.

The Greyhounds had 44.3 per cent from the field and 65.4 per cent from the free throw line.

Kirby Pugh grabbed 15 rebounds and dunked 23 points to lead the Buffs in both departments.

Last week, the Buffs had a cold spell early in the game against Abilene Christian College and dropped a 78-72 decision.

WTSU led 9-8 when Abilene's star Charles Cleek got hot and the Buffs got cold. Cleek racked up six points. The score was 16-9 before the Buffs scored again. The rest of the game throw line.

Tour Planned For Governor

Gov. John Connally will tour the Panhandle-Plains Museum while in Canyon March 19 to address the annual membership meeting of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society.

Boone McClure, museum director, said tentative plans call for the governor to arrive in Canyon about 5:30 p.m. The banquet is to begin at 8 p.m.

was catch-up for the Buffs.

The Buffs only hit 41 per cent from the field. The Abilene quintet hit 59 per cent, compared to the 63 per cent they hit against the Buffs on their home court.

Marvin Mitchell was high scorer for both teams with 20 points.

Miss Parker Participates In Contest

Miss Rose Ellen Parker participated in the annual American Legion Oratorical Contest Wednesday afternoon in Canyon.

Miss Parker, a senior student at Canyon High School, and two other contestants from the south zone of the district competed for the Patrick Henry Award, which was presented by Earl Baskett of Amarillo.

Winner of the contest will go to district finals in Amarillo Feb. 12. District winners will compete in division contest in Big Spring Feb. 20, and from there the winner will travel to state competition.

Subjects discussed at the contest Wednesday in Canyon were based on the United States Constitution.

They included Election Time and Place, Federal Courts, Faith and Credit, Trial By Jury, Rights of the Citizen, and Senate of the United States.

Contestants gave 8 to 10 minute speeches on the prepared topics, then spoke for 3 to 5 minutes extemporaneously.

Wednesday evening visitors in the Arvin Triplett home were Jeanette, Quenton and Mickey Ely, Miss Lisa Marie Woods and Johnny Leslie of Amarillo. Other guests during the week were Mrs. Ray Mickey, Sherman McCarter, Richmond Graham, and Bobby Woodward, all of Canyon.

Art More Than New Skill

BY CLAUDE WALBERT

The girl hurried up to Mrs. Vera Brown and showed her what she had painted.

"That's good," Mrs. Brown said. "That's just the way leaves do."

The girl, her face radiant, went back to her paints so fast that her big apron seemed glued to her body.

"It may not mean anything to you that they bring their work for me to see," Mrs. Brown said, "but at the first of the year they waded it up and threw it away."

She gestured toward the wall where many of the pupils had displayed their work.

"Then a few of them hung their paintings," she said. At first the pupils would take them down almost immediately, but later a few began to "forget" to take them down.

Some began signing their names or initials, and a few even asked if they could take their work home to show it to their parents.

"It shows me that they're finding themselves," Mrs. Brown said. "They're discovering things about themselves as well as about paint."

The pupils were in the seventh grade, in the first regular art class offered in Canyon schools.

Canyon offers six full years of art. Mrs. Royal Brantley, the high school art teacher, taught some classes in junior high until three years ago when Mrs. Brown was hired.

This year is the first that a full schedule of art classes has been offered in junior high.

Class Picks 'Most' Students

Several senior class students at Canyon High School were honored last week in class elections.

David Pittard and Sally Nestor were named students most likely to succeed.

Most athletic were Tommy Higgins and Cynthia Gerald.

Joe Kerbel was named most handsome and Vicki Allen, most beautiful.

Ricky Miller and Laura Plank are most friendly at CHS, and Rob Barnard and Lil Cowart, most talented.

Jody Sheets and Gayle Rae were named most versatile.

Randy Brown and Jill Jarnagin were picked as most witty.

Self-Discovery

the courses, all of them elective, means that they give up a study hall and have to do all their class preparation at home.

Mrs. Brown explained that the first year art course is exploratory. The students work in varied media—leather, copper, ceramics, water colors, tempera colors, pastels.

Mrs. Brown's excitement about the course seems contagious. She's teaching art because of her love for the field and because she feels teaching youngsters is the most rewarding work she could do.

Mrs. Brown, a bookkeeper all her working life until three years ago, took her first college course in 1957.

She said that she was interested in art as a hobby. But it became more than a hobby.

Mrs. Brown, whose daughter's urging had helped propel her toward college, found herself skipping lunch so that she could take another class at West Texas State University.

And after working all day as a bookkeeper, she attended night classes.

Four years ago she found that she had almost enough hours to graduate. She quit work and attended WTSU full-time for a year.

Mrs. Brown had enough hours in art for a major, but she took her degree in education.

Now she expects to complete a masters in education within a year and she will receive an all-levels teaching certificate in art.

The classroom has remained a place for her and the students to experiment and learn. She gives the students a free period, when they can try anything they want, after periods of instruction.

During one free period, a boy was trying painting with a sponge. One girl painted a still life with the heel of her hand and her left-over paints.

The girl later made a palette of her hand and painted another still life with the speed of a chalk-talk artist. And the painting had a striking tactile quality, one that probably wouldn't have appeared if she hadn't felt the paint and brush.

And Mrs. Brown, in the spirit of discovery that permeates the class, has been experimentally reading the class selections from the life of Charles Russell, the western artist, while they paint or mold.

"Their work has blossomed since I started reading about Russell," Mrs. Brown said.

One of the passages she read told about Russell's teachers who weren't sympathetic with his interest in art. He had to hide his sketches behind an open textbook.

But it seems unlikely that anything similar could happen in Canyon schools, where a spirit of experiment and excitement about learning seem universal.

Mrs. Brown said that, while none of her students might become professional artists, the development and release of personality were what she deemed important about the art courses.

And she told of one student who had become interested in leather tooling. He bought tools and worked at home.

"There's something about the feel of leather that the students like," Mrs. Brown said.

But this boy's liking for leatherworking went beyond the other students' and he had rare talent. Now, young as he is, he has made a number of sales of tooled leather.

Next year the junior high classes will enter the regional division of the National Scholastic Art Contest. Winnings such a contest might be the incentive needed to start the career of another artist whose name would be linked to the West like that of Charles Russell or Harold Bugee.

First Baptist Names New Music Leader

A new minister of music and education was named this week for the First Baptist Church.

Jesse N. Sutton, who comes to Canyon from First Baptist Church of Freeport, Texas, is assuming the position recently vacated by Charles Lovell.

Sutton, his wife Norma, and daughters, Rhonda, age 13, Celeste, 8, and Andrea, 10 weeks, are now living at 205 20th Street, and will soon move to their permanent address at 403 Holman Lane.

He is a native of Upshur County in East Texas, and attended Hardin-Simmons University. He graduated from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1957, and while in seminary, worked as music and educational director for First Baptist Church in Ranger.

The Suttons then moved to Freeport, serving in the same capacity for six and one-half years.

The Suttons are busy getting settled, but Sutton noted "We are happy to be in Canyon and are looking forward to meeting and associating with people of this community."

Girls End Cage Careers

Three girls on the Canyon High School basketball team—Jan Jarnagin and her twin sister Jill and Cynthia Gerald—will play their last game on the Canyon court Friday night.

The girls will be looking for a win over Sanford-Fritch in preparation for a win next Tuesday over the Tulsa girls, who have the district championship sewed up.

The Canyon team is at the top of its form with the season drawing to a close.

Coach Royce Elam said his team's 61-55 win over Muleshoe last week was "the best game we've played all year."

Jan Jarnagin hit a fantastic 40 points to lead her team past the Muleshoe quintet, who had downed Canyon earlier by a 2-point margin.

The Canyon girls hit 48 per cent from the field and 67 per cent from the foul line.

Elam said Linda Gill and Becky Price were outstanding on rebounds. Linda grabbed 10 and Becky 7, and Cynthia Gerald and Linda Clark were equally outstanding on assists, he said. Cynthia had 6 and Linda had 5.

Near the end of the game, Sally Swartzell responded to a Muleshoe threat by sinking six consecutive shots from the foul line.

The idle girls watched Tulsa beat Muleshoe Tuesday night. Elam said, "We're going to try to get the satisfaction of beating the champs."

FHA'ers Honored At Dinner

Cindy Gruner was named outstanding Future Homemaker of America of Canyon High School Saturday at the annual FHA banquet.

Lee Ann Kelley, president of the chapter, received the Plaque Award, another honor for constant work in the local organization, and Dorothy Szydoski was recognized as the girl doing the most in FHA.

Other awards included Best Dressed FHA'er, Wanda Owen; Posture Princess, Pam Sternberg, and Charm Queen, Renee Owen.

David Shulte was named Prince Charming.

Several girls received gavels for FHA work done in the past. Kathy Hufnagle received a gavel for serving as president last year as junior high school chapter president, and Gayle Rea received a gavel for being president in 1964 of the high school chapter.

Miss Nancy Hicks was also honored for being president of the Texas FHA organization in 1964-65.

J.E. Miller was guest speaker at the banquet activities Saturday. Miller spoke on "Sign Posts on the Highway of Life."

"We all must have signposts in our daily living in order to stay on the right course," said Miller.

He continued by listing several guide posts which would add to a person's life.

"You must face life uprightly and reject thoughts of hate and selfishness.

"Become a diligent and efficient worker. The business world is clamoring for people who are willing to work."

"Cultivate the art of getting along with people. Respect the rights and interest of others."

"Grow in knowledge and understanding."

"And finally develop an abiding faith, and seek God's leadership," Miller emphasized.

Rob Barnard gave the invocation and Nancy Hicks presented the welcome. Phillip "Red" Parker gave the response.

Les Bruits, a singing group made up of Sherry Killingsworth, Lou Ann Cowart and Diane Davis, gave the entertainment. Cindy Taylor was accompanist.

ASCS Cotton Sign Up Gets Under Way

Cotton sign ups for the 1965 upland cotton program began Monday and will continue through March 26, according to Donald F. Lloyd, manager of the Randall County ASCS office. Lloyd said operators of farms where the effective cotton allotment is 15 acres or less and no acreage is released do not need to sign up in order to participate in this year's domestic allotment program.

"On these farms, which include the majority of farms in Randall County, the domestic allotment is the same as the effective allotment and plantings need not be reduced in order to participate in the domestic allotment program," Lloyd said.

The office manager advanced two reasons for limiting the sign up to larger operators.

"This will not only save small operators from the trouble of signing up, but it will enable county office personnel to spend more time helping the operators of the larger farms to understand the cotton over supply situation and the urgency of the domestic allotment program," he declared.

Lloyd said all upland cotton farmers who participate in the 1965 domestic allotment program will be eligible for price-support payments at 3.35 cents a pound on the normal yield of cotton established for the farm times the acreage planted for harvest.

In addition, he said, the upland cotton crop from such farms will be eligible for price support loans at 29 cents per pound for middling 1-inch cotton, gross weight, at average location.

Lloyd said cotton from farms which are not signed to participate in the domestic allotment program will be eligible for cotton loans if the acreage is kept within the effective farm allotment, but no price support payments will be made to growers on such farms.

DOUBLE GUNN BROS. STAMPS TUESDAY AT BELLAH'S

SEATED AT the linotype in her garage, Mrs. L. D. Hunnicutt prepares some type for one of the many yearbooks she prints each year for clubs and fraternal organizations. The mother of three children, Mrs. Hunnicutt manages, despite her printing duties, to participate in several community activities, including Canyon Home Demonstration Club, WOW's, and work in First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt Is Worker, Busy Mother

BY PHYLLIS BONNIE

Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt contributes a recipe for Italian Spaghetti Sauce with our readers this week, just in time for those upcoming cold days.

Most Canyon folks know Mrs. Hunnicutt as "that lady who prints things", but she also manages time to participate in a bunch of community activities in addition to being wife and mother to her husband, son and two daughters.

Born and reared in Amarillo, Dorthie Swink mether husband, Lawrence in a comptometer class at Amarillo College.

The Hunnicutts were married in Manhattan Beach, California, June 7, 1947 and lived in California for about a year and a half.

"Lawrence had been enrolled in a writing school in California, and after our return to Texas, he went to work for Mr. Warwick at The Canyon News," notes Mrs. Hunnicutt. "We moved to Canyon in August, 1951 and have been here ever since. Lawrence now works as a civilian instructor at Amarillo Air Force Base."

The Hunnicutts have two daughters, Phyllis, age 14, and Wendy, age 6. Son Larry is 9. "Right now, we're down to nine dogs and a bird", Dorthie laughingly jokes, "but I think we've had a little of everything as pets, including banty chickens and fish. Our current pets are a collie, named Poochie, her litter of eight pups, and our bird named Twetie."

The printing business, which the Hunnicutts began as a hobby, has turned into a full-time business.

"We do job printing", states Dorthie, "on letterpress, and we now have a linotype."

The business gets busy too, for nearly all club yearbooks in the area, not only in Canyon, are printed at the Hunnicutt shop. "From July to January are our busiest months on yearbooks, she adds.

In her spare time, Dorthie likes handwork and is currently working needlepoint covers for her piano and organ benches.

Dorthie has also found time to be active in Canyon Home Demonstration Club, and WOW's, she is a den mother, and is a member of VFW auxiliary. Also, she has served as VFW auxiliary district president.

The Hunnicutts attend First Baptist Church, and Dorthie, also active there, serves as secretary of Primary III department. She has been counselor of GA's and circle chairman.

Dorthie's mother, Mrs. Hazel Swink, and one of her brothers, Albert, are both residents of Amarillo. Her sister, Mrs. O. V. Weldert, is a Canyonite, and her other brother, Morgan, lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Nearly all of Lawrence's brothers and sisters live in Amarillo, with the exception of Mrs. Arnold Aull, of Torrance, California. Other family members include two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Hess and Mrs. Mayme Ecker, and brothers, Tom, Cecil, Roy, Doyle, and Calvin.

The recipe for Italian Spaghetti Sauce is undoubtedly just the thing for those evenings when company arrives unexpectedly. Also, leftover sauce can be frozen, or for use all at once, the recipe serves about eight.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI SAUCE:
2 cans tomato paste
2 cans tomato sauce
1/4 cup oil
1 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. garlic salt
1 Tbsp. Italian seasoning
2 pork steaks cut up, country style spareribs or backbone.
Fry meat in large pan until brown and add tomato sauce, tomato paste, and one quart water. Add dry ingredients and stir well. Let boil rapidly for 15 minutes and then simmer, covered, until thick.

Boy Scouts

Troop 108 made plans for Boy Scout week at their meeting held last Monday evening, attended by 23 members. Some of the younger boys were still a bit stiff from Saturday's five-mile hike, however, all are ready to go again. Boys are still talking about their recent trip skiing, when they went to Sipapu. Neither the weather nor the scenery could have been better, and the fresh snow made everything just great. Boys plan to go again next year. Troop members also made plans to participate in the government of Canyon Monday as their activity for Boy Scout week, to wear their uniforms to school, and to hold a parents night for their next meeting, including a Court of Honor and tenderfoot investiture. Troop mothers are also planning a covered dish dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry King of Canyon spent a few days in Dumas with relatives and friends and attended the Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. McGinnis. Mrs. King is the former Julie Cleveland of Dumas.

Present for the festivities were Linda Hester, Terry Bourn, Donna Seymour, Kelli Sch-nell, Donnetta Williams, Iva Jeanne Hill, Doe Nan Musgrave, Beverly Banks, Debbie Zachry, Cynthia Zachry, Mrs. Blake Zachry, and the honoree, Miss Zachry.

Valentine Dolls

Grant Starts Counseling Study At WT

A three-year research project designed to assist counselors in work with emotionally disturbed children has been initiated jointly by West Texas State University and the Amarillo Children's Psychiatric Center through a grant of $8,640 by the Hogg Foundation.

The in-service program this spring will utilize two groups of five graduate students, all working toward counselor's certificates. In the fall session, only practicing school counselors will be used.

"School counselors are working more and more with disturbed youth," said Dr. Kenneth Waugh, director of student personnel services. "We want to give special help and assistance in this area."

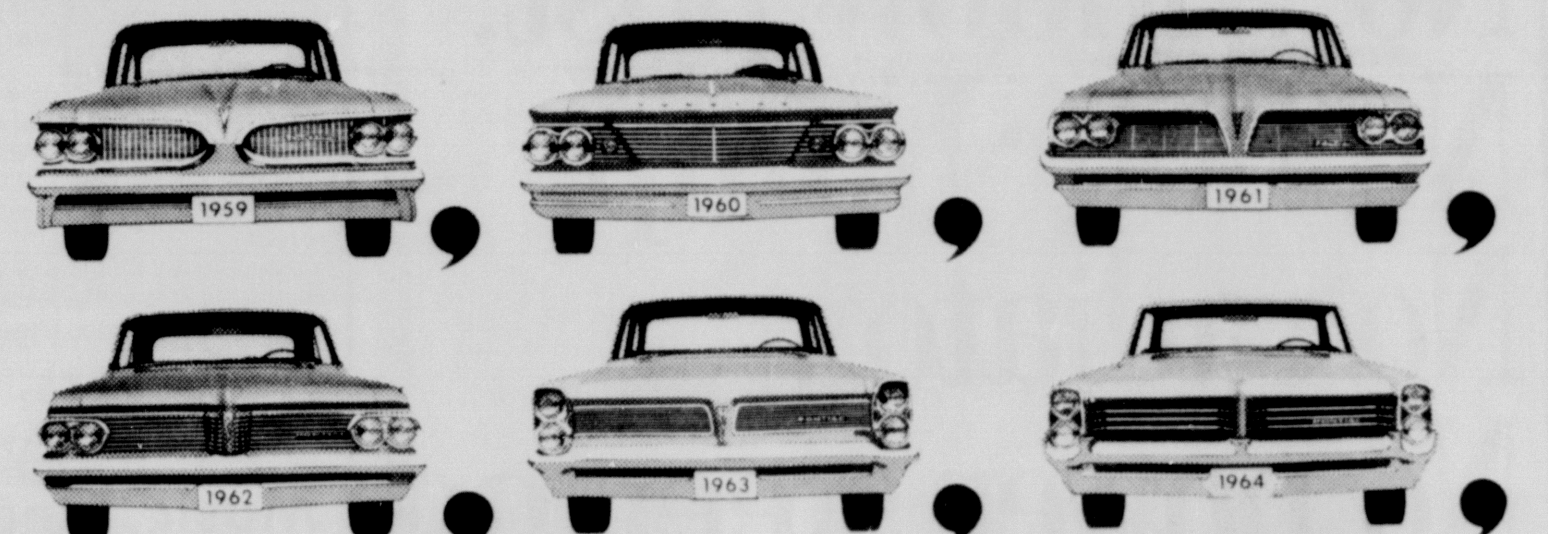

Directing the program will be Waugh and Dr. Jaime Quintanilla, director of the Children's Psychiatric Center. WTSU will be in charge of basic administration.

Persons enrolled in the research project will receive university credit for their work. Specific cases in various schools will be studied and referred to the psychiatric center.

Waugh said there will be an evaluation of the project at the end of the spring semester by WTSU and the center staff.

He added that at the end of a year, WTSU, the center, and representatives of the Hogg Foundation will make an evaluation. Another appraisal will be made by an independent agency to be named by the foundation.

Members of the ninth grade Sunday School class at First Methodist Church returned from a ski weekend at Sipapu, N.M. last Sunday evening. Making the trip were Paula Woolsey, Sue Hilton, Sheila Daugherty, Melody Jones, Jamie Olson, Mary Mitchell, Alicia Boone, Bea Thompson, Penny Warren, Mary Starnes, Debbie Fassauer, Kenneth Pettitt, Avery Thrasher, Danny White, Andy Sherrod, Mike Waugh, Randy Price, David Graham, and sponsors, Wayne Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jones, Mr. and Mrs. P. CANYON BUSINESS REVIEW BUYER'S GUIDE

Time runs short for Canyon motorists to get their 1965 inspection sticker.

April 15 is deadline for the stickers, and all cars registered in the state of Texas must be inspected at licensed inspector stations.

Don't put it off, not when you can get fast, efficient service from Dorris Garage at 13th Street and the Hereford Highway in Canyon.

Glenn Dorris and his son are on hand daily to give you quick service, and it is always expert service.

These men, both who have attended various schools to receive expert training, give your car, truck or pickup close inspection. They make sure your vehicle is safe to drive on our streets and highways.

If something needs to be replaced, you can count on top quality brands of merchandise.

At Dorris Garage, two new boys have been added to the already modern garage. The added space is 30 feet by 40 feet in size and has extra large doors to handle the largest of trucks which are brought to Dorris for rapid service.

In addition to the new stalls, three other bays are ready to house your car while the Dorris men inspect it.

And inspection stickers are only part of the service Dorris Garage offers.

Briggs and Stratton engines are on hand at the garage. Dorris Garage has a group listing for engines, and handles all popular engines on the market today.

"The Briggs and Stratton of-line of quick-starting, top performance 4-cycle gasoline engines," says Glenn about the engines.

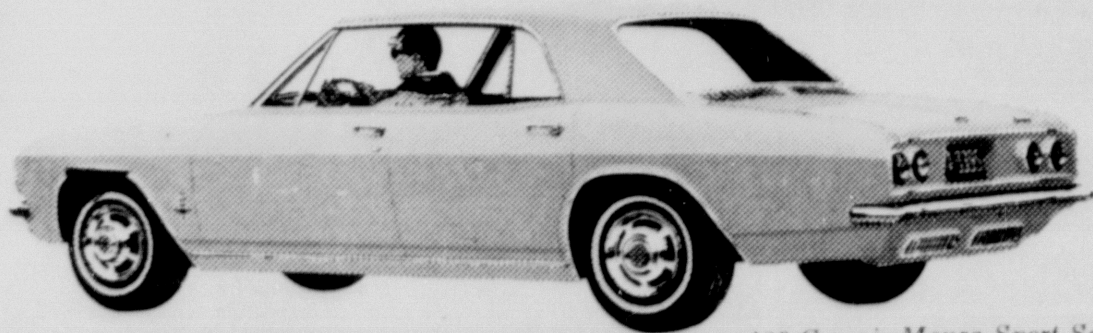

So if it is engines you need, stop by and talk with Glenn Dorris about the full line of stock.

And don't forget, only a short time until 1965 inspec-

No window post.
No floor hump.
No radiator.
No power steering.
No power brakes.

(Some of the things you don't get in a Corvair are among your best reasons for buying it.)

'65 Corvair Monza Sport Sedan

Corvair by Chevrolet

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin--what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling--with curved frameless side windows--in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator--the engine's air-cooled--also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure--with no nosediving.

Summer Institute In Math Planned

A National Science Foundation summer institute for secondary teachers of mathematics will be given by the mathematics department of West Texas State University from June 28 to Aug. 20.

Each participant will take two courses in mathematics, introduction to matrix algebra and introduction to elementary functions.

In the first course no previous knowledge of matrix algebra or the theory of matrices will be assumed. In the second course a knowledge of the typical freshman course in plane analytical geometry will be assumed.

Consequently, credit in plane analytical geometry is a prerequisite for the institute. These courses may apply toward credit for the Master of Education degree and a professional certificate. They will not apply on a Master's degree in Mathematics. The courses do not, however, have to be taken for credit.

Each class will meet one full hour, five days per week, for eight weeks. There will be seminars in the afternoons and there will be several night programs; however, there will be ample time for study.

Participants must have had at least two years teaching experience in secondary mathematics. Participants must live in Canyon during the term of the institute. Commuting will not be allowed.

Stipends for out of town participants will be $75 per week. It will be $50 per week for local teachers who live at home. The maximum dependency allowance is $15 per week for a maximum of four eligible dependents. Travel allowance will be at the rate of four cents per mile for one round trip.

Single participants may live in dormitories if they wish. Participants who bring their families will live in town. Furnished apartments and houses are available from $65 to $125 per month. More detailed information concerning this and other phases of the institute will be sent to the successful applicants.

Application forms NSF 9C-248 and IBM cards NSF 9C-25B must be returned not later than Feb. 15 to guarantee consideration. The application forms should be filled out completely but transcripts and recommendations are not necessary.

Posse Accepts New Members At Meeting

Randall County Sheriff's Posse accepted new members in a meeting held last week.

Leon Cox, Ronald Cox and Buford Sparks were accepted into the organization as members. Five association members were also accepted. These include Kevin, Cindy and Henry Sparks, and Liz Ann and Jimmy Keeling.

Persons interested in membership in the club should contact Blaine Hufnagle or Earl Reynolds.

R. B. Allen, president, outlined activities planned for 1965. The organization will sponsor an annual rodeo this summer, and will sponsor four trail rides during the year. Members will also participate in several parades during the summer, and social and arena activities will be held in the Randall County arena.

The local group will also take an active part in District II Play Day later this year.

Rain Friday Adds To Total

Canyon gained another .03 of an inch of moisture Friday night bringing the year's total to .48. "This is below the normal for January, but not a great amount," said Dr. M. B. Measamer at West Texas State University.

No moisture has been recorded in February of this year.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale February 19

Canyon Girl Scouts and Brownies will begin selling cookies Friday, Feb. 19 to raise money for a new scout building.

The week-long annual drive will be conducted door-to-door. Money will be placed in building fund for a new Girl Scout building, according to Mrs. Dean Nicholas, chairman of the drive.

A box of cookies will sell for 50 cents. Cookies will be delivered Saturday, Feb. 27.

"We will keep about 25 cents of the money from each box to use in our local program. The other 25 cents will be sent to the cookie manufacturer," said Mrs. Nicholas.

Plans for a building have been drawn, and will be discussed later this month by the council. "We need a building so badly. Girls are meeting in homes, churches and at the schools. Our supplies are scattered around town. The girls need a place they can call 'home' and we need a central location for our materials."

"We are grateful for donations we have received from individuals in the past. The cookie sale is our main money-raising project, and the money will go into our building fund," noted Mrs. Nicholas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harwood and children, Renee, Marcia and Steve, of Panhandle were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Robinson. Mrs. Harwood is a daughter of the Robinsons.

Canyon High School basketball girls have been rated as number eleven among Texas high school basketball teams. Coach Royce Elam, head mentor, said the Texas High School Girls Basketball Coaches Association ranked the Canyon girls as the first team in the second list of 10 teams. Tulsa, also in District 1-AAA, was ranked as third in the state and Muleshoe was placed as 13th.

Victoria was rated as number one and Clear Creek placed second in the coaches' polls.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil McGee of Childress were visiting with relatives and attending to business in Canyon Saturday. Mrs. McGee is the former Ethel Brasuel and both are former residents of this city.

FEBRUARY means more than Valentine's Day to youngsters in Rex Reeves Elementary School. Mary Martinez, 10 years old, and Charles Gray, 8, smile broadly as they examine books concerning the American heritage set forth by Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Meanwhile, Charles holds a big red Valentine...so no one will forget all three dates.

Challenge In Biology Course

BY CLAUDE WALBERT

"Scalpel," said one calm voice and another voice replied, "Scalpel."

It wasn't one of the television hospital melodramas, just two Canyon High School students having a little fun to get through what could be an unpleasant task--dissecting a foetal pig.

But the students, instead of finding the work unpleasant, showed the kind of rapt attention to their work that teachers recognize as learning.

And it is for this purpose, to offer students primarily interested in science on the college level advanced knowledge, that Canyon High School offers for the first time this year a second-year course in biology. "The main criticism over the course of second-year biology is that it's just a repetition of the first year," said Mrs. Jerry Puckett, the biology instructor. "We're trying to avoid that," she said. "If we do repeat, the subject matter is presented in far more depth."

Many of the students who elected to take the second year of biology, a course that compare with many college offerings in the same field, are prospective pre-medical or pre-nursing students.

The course is so unusual in Texas high schools that the state hasn't been able to supply a textbook.

Mrs. Puckett said that all the students take excellent notes during lecture periods. Some material she runs off on a mimeograph machine.

Asked if the class didn't require extra work, she said, "It's been fun working with a class like this."

Mrs. Puckett found a workbook for dissecting the pig. In lectures, the knowledge gained from dissection is put to use in understanding human anatomy. The students supplement lectures and laboratories with regular research assignments. Each student makes a monthly report to the class on a subject that has caught his interest and that has been researched in scientific journals.

They also comb magazines and newspapers for subjects to bring up for classroom discussion.

Mrs. Puckett can get along without textbook assignments because of the students' interest in the course.

"Get those pigs broken out and get to work on them," she called when the period began, but it was just a sort of in-group greeting.

Mrs. Puckett said that students often became so interested in laboratory work that they stayed over into the lunch period.

During the fall semester, she said, the class dissected live rats under anaesthesia after West Texas State University gave the school some of its excess population.

The students, watching the action of the rats' hearts and lungs, muscular contractions, and peristaltic motions of their intestines, became so interested that everyone forgot lunch.

"It was the first time any had seen a living animal dissected," Mrs. Puckett said. "We're lucky lab meets just before the lunch period."

Of course the students, who rightly mix fun with learning, make jokes about lunch that probably wouldn't sit well with less advanced students.

But these students have been academically matured and prepared for advanced biology. The frogs they dissect in the first-year class are only a little less advanced than the mammals studied the second year.

And far more than anatomy is studied the second year--histology, embryology, heredity, and bacteriology are some of the subjects studied in the advanced course.

Mrs. Puckett said she had been warned to expect a tiny class in second-year biology.

However, 18 students enrolled. She said, "I was surprised at the number."

She added, "And it looks as though next year we'll have a larger class."

GARY DOOLEY dissects his specimen with the attention of a surgeon. Most of the students in Canyon High School's advanced biology class are planning to enter pre-medical or pre-nursing studies.

Consul Will Speak On Israeli Life

Approximately 100 members of the Panhandle Council for the Social Studies are expected Feb. 25 for the annual spring meeting at West Texas State University when the Israeli consul for Texas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma will speak.

Avshalom Caspi, consul for this area since 1962, will discuss life in modern Israel for the meeting to be in the Green Room of the West Dining Hall at 6:30 p.m.

Reservations for the meal, at $2 a ticket, may be made before Feb. 23 with Dr. Glenn Aplin, associate professor of social studies at WTSU. Membership in the council is open to all teachers of social studies from the elementary through the college and university levels.

President of the council is Dr. Eugene W. Jones of Wayland College. Other officers are Gladys Wallis of Amarillo, first vice president; Dr. Lowell H. Harrison of WTSU, second vice president; Mrs. Wanda Van Valkenburg of Canyon, secretary; and R. B. Bucy of Sunray, treasurer.

Caspi has served Israel as a consul for more than ten years, having been stationed previously in Amsterdam and Bombay, India. He also served Israel's Ministry for Foreign Affairs in its information department in

Speech Group Eyes National Meet In April

Plans are being made for West Texas State University's participation in the national Pi Kappa Delta tournament and convention in April.

Gene Lewis, WTSU speech instructor, also said invitations to prospective pledges for the honorary speech fraternity will be issued next week.

Africa and Asia.

The consul joined the illegal Haganah in 1930 at the age of 15, attaining the rank of company commander. In 1941 he joined the British army, serving in Africa, Italy and Europe.

Early in 1947, Caspi joined the administration of the British mandate government of Palestine as district officer for Jerusalem. Later he was transferred to Tel Aviv, where, soon after the re-establishment of the State of Israel, he was appointed deputy district commissioner of Tel Aviv. He held this post until joining the Foreign Service in 1952.

Cub Scouts

Cub Scout Den 4, Pack 31, met in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt, Friday. Plans were discussed for the Blue-Gold Banquet which will be held Feb. 25, in the All-Purpose room of the Elementary School. Games of "Coyote and Sheep" and "Birds Fly" were enjoyed by the boys until refreshments were served by Larry Hunnicutt.

Present were Bobby Boyett, Ronny Branum, Bobby Lindsey, David May, John Boone and Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Huelyn Laycock and Mr. and Mrs. Don Byars and children, all of Canyon, spent last week end in Red River.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clement spent the weekend in Elk City, Okla., visiting with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis.

Teacher Exams Slated At WT

National Teacher Examinations will be administered at West Texas State University March 20, according to Dr. Kenneth Waugh, director of student personnel services.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit scores on the National Teacher Examinations are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J.

Information concerning registration and application for the exams may be obtained from Dr. Waugh, whose office is in the Education Building. Applications must be submitted before the date of the tests.

At the one-day test session, a candidate may take the common examinations, which include tests in professional and general education, and one of the 13 teaching area examinations, which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.
